What is the Community Grants Program?

The Community Grants Program (CGP) is a competitive funding program administered by the Office of Multicultural Interests (OMI), within the Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries.

The program provides funding to empower culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) communities in Western Australia to design, deliver and partner on projects that address their needs.

The CGP supports CaLD community-led activities that:

- celebrate and promote Western Australia’s cultural diversity
- build the capacity of individuals, families and communities to contribute to the civic and economic life of the State
- improve the accessibility and effectiveness of services.

Strategic Projects (up to $30,000)

This funding category supports capacity building projects that benefit CaLD communities, including those from new and emerging communities, women, seniors, young people and regional communities.

Projects may relate, but are not limited to, the following focus areas:

- family and domestic violence prevention
- parenting
- leadership
- financial literacy
- health and wellbeing
- support for regional communities.

Definition of culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD)

Culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) was introduced in 1996 to replace ‘non-English speaking background’ (NESB) and was intended to be a broader, more flexible and inclusive term. It is generally applied to groups and individuals who differ according to religion, language and ethnicity and whose ancestry is other than Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander, Anglo Saxon or Anglo Celtic.

Eligibility

Applicant organisations must be either a CaLD community association or a CaLD community service organisation.

Definition of a CaLD community association

To be classified as a culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) community association, the association must demonstrate and provide evidence that they meet the following criteria:

- The association is incorporated under the Western Australia Associations Incorporation Act 2015.
- The objectives of the association (in the association's Constitution or Rules) clearly state that it is specifically established to represent and promote the interests of a CaLD community with a shared country/ continent of ancestry, ethnicity, culture, language or religion.
- The Management Committee or Board of the association predominately reflects the intended CaLD community and is elected by members of that community to represent the community.
- The association's membership comprises individuals or other groups representative of that CaLD community.

Definition of a CaLD community service organisation

To be classified as a culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) community service organisation, the organisation must demonstrate and provide evidence that they meet the following criteria:

- The association is incorporated under the Western Australia Associations Incorporation Act 2015, or is a not-for-profit organisation based in Western Australia.
- The objectives of the organisation (in the organisation's Constitution or Rules) clearly state that it is specifically established for and its core business and focus is to either: provide support and deliver services and programs to CaLD communities; or
- represent and advocate for the interests of CaLD communities.
- The organisation has ongoing operational resourcing and employs paid staff.
- The Management Committee or Board and staffing profile of the organisation reflects CaLD communities, and it has a commitment to workforce training in cultural competency.
- The organisation has internal policies and procedures that demonstrate a commitment to multiculturalism and cultural diversity.

An organisation that engages with CaLD communities as an incidental service is not eligible.

Auspice arrangements are not accepted for applications to the Strategic Projects category.

Who is not eligible?

Child safeguarding

Every child has the right to feel safe when participating in arts, cultural, sporting, recreation and community activities.

Organisations that undertake child-related work or activities have a duty of care to keep children and young people (those aged under 18 years) safe from harm. Protecting children and young people from harm, harassment, discrimination and abuse is in part a legal requirement, an ethical obligation and a future requirement.

Organisations that receive this funding may be required to complete the Child Safeguarding Self-Assessment provided by the Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries.

What is the application process?

Strategic Projects (up to $30,000) funding is available through two competitive grant cycles each year.

Timeframes for the grant application need to be considered by the organisation when planning the project. It can take some time to undertake the project planning required before an organisation is ready to develop a grant application. Once an application is submitted, the assessment and approval process can then take up to another three months.

Before commencing an application, organisations should contact the OMI Grants Officer to confirm their eligibility and receive advice about the application requirements and timeframes for submission.

OMI team members can work with community groups and organisations to assist with project planning and development. They can also provide guidance on the application and make sure it contains all the required information in readiness for submission.

All applications will be required to identify any risks relevant to the activity as a result of COVID-19 (such as health restrictions) and the strategies for mitigation. For further information please go to wa.gov.au/government/covid-19-coronavirus

While the OMI Grants Officer will provide specific advice about when Strategic Projects (up to $30,000) applications should be submitted, these are some indicative timeframes of the grant cycles to assist organisations with their planning:

- Submit application by March, for activities occurring from July onwards.
- Submit application by September, for activities occurring from January onwards.

What is the approval process?

Applications are subject to a competitive assessment by an independent panel against the assessment criteria and the general criteria of the program, taking into consideration the funding principles (see page 4). Recommendations from the panel are submitted to the Minister for Citizenship and Multicultural Interests for approval. Once the approval process is finalised and the outcomes released, applicants can seek feedback on their application.

Funding is highly competitive and limited. Should your organisation be offered a grant, the amount of funding approved may be less than the amount requested in your application. In this case grant recipients will be asked to revise their budget and project in line with the funding offered, or to secure funding from another source.
