What is Harmony Week?

Harmony Week takes place from 15 – 21 March. Harmony Week originated in Western Australia as an opportunity for Western Australians to recognise, discuss and celebrate our cultural diversity. It began as 'Harmony Day' in 1998 and was celebrated on 21 March - the United Nations' International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination. The UN chose 21 March as it was the day of the 1960 Sharpeville Massacre when police fired on a peaceful demonstration against apartheid in South Africa.

In 2003, due to community concerns about holding public celebrations on the date of the massacre, the WA Government changed Harmony Day to Harmony Week. The WA Government wanted to celebrate this State's cultural diversity by organising events over a week. This means that we celebrate the benefits of our cultural diversity for six days and reserve 21 March for reflection and discussion.

Harmony Week activities ($2,000)

The Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries (DLGSC) is offering grants of $2,000 to support community-led activities promoting and celebrating multiculturalism in Western Australia for inclusion in its Harmony Week 2023 campaign. Activities should involve culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) communities in their coordination and be open to participation from the broader community.

Activities with a focus on culture and arts and sport and active recreation are encouraged in this funding round.

Culture and arts activities are those that involve a professional artist or arts practitioner working with the community to design and deliver the activity.

Sport and active recreation activities are those that involve the community participating in a primary activity requiring physical exertion and/or physical skill.

The types of activities that can be supported include:

- community art projects
- multicultural sports carnivals
- community concerts or events
- community barbeques and dinners
- workshops, seminars and talks
- digital content production.

Only one application per organisation can be submitted.

Only one application can be supported for any one activity or event program.

Definition of culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD)

Culturally and linguistically diverse (CaLD) was introduced in 1996 to replace 'non-English speaking background' (NESB) and was intended to be a broader, more flexible and inclusive term. It is generally applied to groups and individuals who differ according to religion, language and ethnicity and whose ancestry is other than Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander, Anglo Saxon or Anglo Celtic.

2021 case studies

Pilbara Community Legal Service

The Pilbara Community Legal Service engaged professional artist Sarah Roots to run a visual art workshop for people from CaLD backgrounds to express their Australian migration story through their artwork. The artworks were exhibited at the Karratha City Shopping Centre so that the whole community could view, learn and reflect on the different life experiences of local residents and the cultures in Karratha.

Mandurah Filipino Sports Club

Hosted in partnership between the Mandurah Filipino Sports Club and the Mandurah Volleyball Association, teams from various sporting clubs in the Peel region came together for a multi-sports tournament at the Halls Head Recreation Community Centre. The one-day event also featured cultural performances, guest speakers and multicultural food for spectators.

South Lake Ottey Family and Neighbourhood

The South Lake Ottey Family and Neighbourhood Centre hosted a community event featuring art and craft workshops run by the local Bahai community, a dance and music presentation by the Cockburn Chinese Community group, and an interactive Aboriginal cultural workshop presented by Marissa Verma from Bindi Bindi Dreaming.

Organisations that receive funding may be required to complete the Child Safeguarding Self-Assessment provided by the Department.

What is the application process?

The application process is administered by the Office of Multicultural Interests (OMI), which is a division of DLGSC.

As part of the planning process, the applicant should contact OMI to discuss their activity and confirm their eligibility before commencing the application:

Phone: (08) 6552 1603

Email: grants@omi.wa.gov.au

OMI team members can also provide guidance on the application and make sure it contains all the required information in readiness for submission.

Applications must be presented on the Harmony Week 2023 activities application form which is available for download from the Harmony Week page at www.omi.wa.gov.au

Supporting material such as planning documents, samples of promotional material or letters of support may be submitted as attachments to the application form.

What is the approval process?

Funding is highly competitive and limited. There are usually more applications than funds available.

Applications are subject to assessment by an independent panel against the assessment criteria and the funding principles (see Page 6). Recommendations from the panel are submitted to the Minister for Citizenship and Multicultural Interests for approval. Once the approval process is finalised and the outcomes released, applicants can seek feedback on their application.

It takes up to three months from the deadline to assess, approve and communicate results to applicants. It is intended that applicants will be advised of outcomes by January 2023.

1. Applicant contacts OMI to discuss activity and grant criteria
2. Applicant develops application. A draft application can be submitted to OMI for advice
3. Applicant submits application and supporting material
4. OMI conducts eligibility check of application
5. Independent panel assesses eligible applications
6. Independent panel makes recommendations to the Minister for approval
7. Applicants are notified of outcomes in writing and can request feedback

What happens if you get a grant?

Successful applicants who receive a grant will be required to provide updated information to OMI in the lead-up to the activity so that it can be included in the Harmony Week 2023 campaign. Organisations may be asked to provide marketing materials before the activity and photos during the activity.

Once the activity is over, all successful grant recipients are required to provide a final report, including a certified financial statement, which provides evidence of how the grant was expended and confirms the successful delivery of the activity. The report should include copies of photos, marketing materials and media coverage from the activity.
